Re: Tony Moore/Moore and Associates/Birds of a Feather

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great enthusiasm that I am able to provide verification of the valuable community asset that exists with the Moore and Associates DOC program and the Birds of a Feather Program.

Every community has a sector of its population that has struggled with substance abuse issues, and the numbers have exploded through the years with the opiate crisis. The Kenosha community is fortunate to have an effective resource available for those battling such addictions in the aforementioned programs.

I have been in the Kenosha legal community since 1991 as both a practicing attorney and more recently as a circuit court judge. On countless occasions, I have seen and heard the testimonies of many individuals that have participated in the Moore and Associates DOC program and the Birds of a Feather program. Numerous people have credited those programs on saving their lives and leading them to the path of recovery; as a result, they have grown and become productive members within their own families and within the community.

Tony Moore, who heads up the programs is a dedicated and passionate person for the cause. He goes above and beyond his formal programming to ensure the success of that population with his active participation in the recovery community and the community at large. Mr. Moore has even come to my drug treatment court to support the treatment court participants on the road to a sober lifestyle.

It would be a devastating loss to the community should these programs disappear.

Sincerely,
